REPORT MANY DEAD AND HURT PLYMOUTH EXPRESS TRAIN IN TERRIFIC WRECK

STATE ACTS IN SECRETARY GURNEY'S CASE GOVERNOR APOLOGIZES AND MAKES A PROTEST

Governor Bates this afternoon made public his formal letter to Acting Secretary of State Adee, at Washington, with reference to the arrest of Third Secretary Hugh Gurney, of the British Embassy, who was fined by Judge Phelps, of Lee, for speeding his automobile and contempt of court.

That part of the Governor's communication follows:

"As Executive of this Commonwealth, I deeply regret that want of knowledge of the law, seldom if ever invoked in our inferior courts, with relation to the immunity of representatives of foreign Governments, has resulted in this error of judicial authority, and I venture to hope that the explanation and expression of regret forwarded herewith by Judge Phelps may be recognized as a conclusive disavowal of any intention on the part of a member of a judicial department of the government of this State to ignore the recognized provision of international law or to manifest any disrespect to a representative of the government of His Britannic Majesty.

"While the incident is greatly to be deplored, I venture to suggest as in some degree exculpatory of the court in this matter that the representatives of a foreign government, who have dwelt among us have always conducted themselves with such regard for the laws of the Commonwealth as to hitherto have furnished no occasion for the consideration by our courts of criminal jurisdiction of the immunities to which such foreign representatives are entitled by the law of nations, and through which they find protection when disregarding our laws.

"I suggest that the attention of the Ambassador of His Britannic Majesty be invited to the breach of the laws of this Commonwealth disclosed in the statement of Judge Phelps, accompanying this letter, believing that if his attention be called to it he will take such action as to make certain that the immunities from prosecutions in our courts shall not permit the safety of our citizens to be endangered or our laws to be violated because, through international comity, the jurisdiction of our tribunal is withheld. Respectfully,

"JOHN L. BATES"

HOAR CAN NOT LIVE

Special to the Boston American.

Worcester, Sept. 29.—Senator George F. Hoar was on the verge of dissolution shortly before noon today, and his physical condition was so feeble that he could hardly survive until nightfall. The following bulletin was issued at the Senator's home, No. 21 Oak avenue.

"I cannot tell how long Mr. Hoar will live, but he is growing steadily weaker." "Senator Hoar is worse. He fainted during the night and can hardly live through today. Within the grief-stricken household there were even less optimistic than the bulletin indicated.

The aged Senator's death was looked for at any moment. His illness had grown so bad that it gave lately a sign of improvement. To a lay observer it would appear that the Senator was actually dead except when, at painfully long intervals, came the gasp for fresh air and food. The news of such episodes which arrived on the patient three days ago convinced, and there was no doubt.

The Senator's son, General Buckwood Hoar, the nephew and Mr. Warren de Villemore, who were left the bedside. It was impossible to administer either medicine or nourishment, and Mr. Gilman could only watch his patient for the first signs of rapidly approaching death, so that others of the household might be notified.

Plymouth Express Ditched Near Braintree, Engineer Dead, Fireman Dying and Many Passengers Also Reported Killed or Injured—Hurry Call Sent for Doctors.

BY THE BREAKING OF A CYLINDER AND PISTON ON THE LOCOMOTIVE DRAWING THE EXPRESS TRAIN FROM PLYMOUTH TO BOSTON, AT 12:50 THIS AFTERNOON, AT A POINT BETWEEN BRAINTREE AND SOUTH WEYMOUTH, THE TRAIN WAS DERAILED AND DITCHED. THE ENGINEER WAS KILLED, THE FIREMAN FATALLY INJURED AND MANY OTHERS HURT.

The coaches were filled with passengers. Many were hurt, some very seriously.

A hurry call was sent to Braintree and South Braintree for doctors.

Every physician in the two towns has responded and is now working over the victims of the wreck or hurrying on the way.

Train Was Running at High Speed.

The train was due to arrive at Braintree at 12:58, leaving at once for Boston. It is known on the line as the Plymouth Express, and is one of the principal daily trains between Boston and the South Shore.

It was running at its usual high rate of speed when the cylinder broke, the eccentric rod became detached and dropped to the ground, and the engine leaped into the air and went crashing into a field at the side of the track.

Tender, baggage and passenger cars followed instantly. The engine had completely jumped a ditch by the side of the track, and the cars piled one upon another.

There was a scene of terrible confusion.

Passengers who crawled out from under the cars found the engineer gasping out his life. His legs were severed from his body. Death was but a question of a few moments for him. Nearly was his fireman, dying.

It is a considerable distance to a telephone. As soon as messengers could reach the wire word was sent the Braintree Telephone Exchange, which notified all the doctors in town.

The train consisted of one baggage and two passenger cars. All were piled in a heap.

Those who telephoned said many dead and dying were still in the wreckage.

A wrecking train was made up in Boston, and, under the direction of the division superintendent, started for the wreck within a short time.

FIVE CARS WERE DITCHED.

There were two conductors on the train, both of whom are reported as seriously injured.

Of the five cars of the train three, with the locomotive, went completely over the embankment. The other two were also derailed.

The train left Plymouth with three cars. Two more were added where the Hanover branch strikes the main line.

To the hurry call for physicians Dr. P. Pillsbury and Dr. Marston, of Braintree, were the first to respond.

The accident happened a mile from South Braintree, and as there are no hospitals thereabout with capacity for caring for the injured, a special train was made up at Braintree on which, accompanied by the doctors, the injured were brought to Boston.

FOOT RACE FOR A BRIDE ENDS IN DEAD HEAT

Worcester Young Men Ran Twice, and Then It Was Declared a Draw.

BOTH STILL SEEK FAVOR

Special to the Boston American. WORCESTER, Sept. 26.—Patrick J. McKinn and John J. Casey ran a five-year foot race for the love of a young woman who they had been courting, at the annual foot race of the Washington club.

When asked to chase foot races, the girl said she couldn't, as she could not run as fast as the other. Then they agreed that the fastest runner should have the privilege of being the sole suitor for her hand. Chief Police Inspector O'Day was referee. He said to the spectators:

"McKinn and Casey love the same girl, the agreement is that the faster in this race will not molest the winner in his efforts to gain the young lady for his wife. McKinn, led Casey almost to the top, when the latter passed him in a desperate effort. The bulls were so close that spectators shouted 'Dead heat!'

Before O'Day said that Casey had won, a constable, but the crowd shouted for another heat and the men consented to run again. This time McKinn finished first by two feet. The referee declared the race a draw and both will continue to court the fair young woman.

Special Cable to Boston American. LONDON, Sept. 27.—There is a periodical report in society that Frances Belmont, the 'Florodora' girl who became one of the leading members of Charles Hawley's New York company, is engaged to marry the immensely wealthy Lord Ashburton, formerly name Harting.

Baton Ashburton is a young widower, his wife, who was a daughter of Viscount Bathurst, having died last January. Mrs. Belmont, when seen by a BOSTON AMERICAN reporter, said she knew Lord Ashburton, but was not engaged to him. The friends of the actress say, however, that the report of the engagement is true.

ECZEMA ON LITTLE GIRL

Sleepless Nights for Mother and Awful Suffering of Child.

CURED BY CUTICURA

Had Given up All Hope of Ever Making Any Cure.

"My little girl has been suffering for two years or more from eczema, and during that time I could not get a night's sleep, as her ailment was very severe. I had tried so many remedies and spent much money, deriving no benefit. I had absolutely given up all hope of making any cure. But as a last resort I was persuaded to try a set of Cuticura. I did twice a day, each time following with the Cuticura Ointment, and at the same time gave the Resolvent, according to directions. One box of the Ointment and two bottles of the Resolvent, together with the Soap, effected a permanent cure. I submit this for publication, if you desire, if it will aid to your success and assist me many thousands of sufferers in curing themselves." Mrs. L. B. JONES, Astoria, Ind.

The first step in the treatment of the chronic form is to remove the scales and crusts and soften the skin, by warm baths with Cuticura Soap. The scales, crusts, eczema, blisters and feet will require frequently a thorough soaking in order to penetrate the thickened skin and crusts. Cuticura will gently at first, and where adverse glands are on pieces of soft cloth and bled in place. Take the Resolvent, pills, or liquid, in medium doses. Do not use cold water in bathing, and avoid cold, raw winds.

CHAMPION FOX TERRIER DIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Major G. M. Cernochan's wire-haired fox terrier, Go Bang, who was pronounced the champion of champions of his class, is dead. Major Cernochan purchased the great canine in 1880 and paid about $2,500 for him.

All lovers of the breed have conceded him to be the best of his variety, and many claim he was the best fox terrier, smooth or rough. In any event, Go Bang will live in history, not so much because he won more prizes than any other terrier, but because no other in the history of the breed ever really approached him, judged point by point.

Mum's the Word.
There isn't much to be said about yesterday. We made ten hits couldn't get a man over the rubber. The Naps made nine safe hits and five tallies. The conclusion was frost on the field. The writer has figured out that the Clevelanders win every game from on, while the Boston lose eight of twelve, the New York nine of thirteen, the White Sox four out of twelve, the Athletics three out of twenty, Clevelanders will win the pennant. The very best dream is what you will say.

Here's a much better dream for Boston standpoint: Boston has to games to play, Chicago twelve and York thirteen. If Boston wins six,

Boston and New York are still pursuing the uneven tenor of their way. There is no material difference in the standing. The Champs are still four points to the good. It may be expected that the Bostons will increase their lead today. "Old Cy" will be in the game for them, while Ben Barnhard, who has only won one game out of five in the Champs, will be in the line-up for the Naps. With "Cy" in grand form, and if some of the belated cargo of ripe hits turn up for the Bostons, we may reasonably count on a victory for the Killdoers. If the Bostons get the edge against the Highlanders, and if he is in good shape he should give the Gotham team more than it is bargaining for. Chesbro may pitch for the New Yorks, and the strain which he has been under for the past week or two may tell him to pull out of the game against the Highlanders for the pennant. While you have your two eyes directed on the Champs and the Highlanders you should hunt up another optio and put in a Chicago commission, as that team stands in good way to capture the honor, judging by its present winning streak.
